Agreement for wedding photography p.2

Terms of Agreement:

1. Because deposits reserve the photographer's availability for a particular date and time, all deposits are refundable only at the discretion of the photographer. It is understood that the photographer may have turned down other potential clients for the same date and time and this is the reason that deposits are not normally refundable.
2. In the unlikely case that the photographer is unable to deliver the proofs or prints agreed upon, the photographer limits his liability to the return of all deposits made to him by the client.
3. With regards to payment: Of the contracted photography package price:
  - 1/3rd as a deposit due upon the signing of contract
  - 1/3rd due 6 weeks before wedding date
  - Final 3rd due 2 weeks before wedding date(3 cheques with two post dated is suggested) cheques payable to: David Bindle
(please make careful note of the date/year)
4. The bride and groom will discuss in advance with the wedding official as to the parts of the ceremony that the official wedding photographer will be allowed to photograph. It is understood that because the photographer will likely photograph other weddings performed by the same official, to maintain a good working relationship with the wedding official, the photographer will adhere to the wedding official's rules for acceptable photographic opportunities.
5. In the case that the photographers services are wanted or required outside of the times indicated, the client agrees to pay the photographer in accordance with the photographers price list.
6. The client will not expect the photographer to continue photography if the photographer is being harassed or abused in any manner, or if his equipment is put into jeopardy in any manner by persons under the influence of alcohol, or, who are acting in a belligerent manner.
7. The photographer will conduct his business in a professional, courteous manner, arrive on time, have plentiful film reserves and other equipment supplies, and will be dressed and groomed in an appropriate manner.
8. Images made by the photographer at this wedding event may be used by the photographer for promotional purposes.
9. Due to all the variables involved in creating an image, the client realizes that no single specific pose can be absolutely guaranteed
